Camel

A camel is a large animal well adapted to living in hot, dry deserts. It has long legs, a long neck, and one or two humps on its back. Camels can travel long distances with little water and are often used to carry people and goods across desert regions.